CHICAGO, January 24.—Jem Mace and Slade, the Maori, who came all the way from Australia for the purpose of meeting John L. Sullivan, of Boston, in a fisific encounter, arrived here this morning. They wen direct to the headquarters for the pugilistic fraiernity, and were welcomed by Jim Eltiott, John Charles, of Bultimore; W. E. Harding, of the Folice Gazette; "Parson" Davies, and others. Elliott's backers expressed a desire to have a go at Slade, and later in the day Paddy Byan wanted to make a match for his Nebraska giant, but Mace declined to enter any negotiations for Slade until Richard K. MILWAUKEE, January 24.—Night-Clerk Delanev was examined to-day at the inquest of the Newhall House disaster. The salient points of the testimony are that he thought the fire originated in the bar-room. The hose in the halls had not been used or examined for the last two years. He could have called the guests if he had not been engaged upon matters which he considered of more importance than alarming the guests. He had twenty-five minutes between the discovery of the fire and the time before he knew the hotel was doomed; he could have run through every hall in the hotal and alarmed every guest in that length of time, but had to attend to the office duties, saving papers and valuables, knowing the hotel safe to be useless in case of fire.

Mr. Mackoroenie's resignation of the vicarage of St. Albans, London, which has been hailed in various quarters as, in the circumstances, a "capitulation" to ritualista is not sillowed to pass without protest from the council of the Church Association. That body has published a manifesto in which the circumstances that accompanied the resignation are declared to "constitute a grave acandal to the Church of England." Great surprise and profound regret are expressed that the Bishop of London should have thought it consistent with the obligation of his episcopal office to canction the arrangement without any piedge having been given to obey the laws of the church.

te morrow. He will probably have fifty votes, and may go to sixty. The policy of the anti-monopolists is to force the R-publicans to name a man agreeable to them. It is difficult to say what the result will be. A new factor enters into the fight to-night. To-day the Supreme Court gave a formal decision declaring the railroad commission law unconstitutional. This was applauded by the anti-monopolists. Judge George B. Lake, chief justice of the Supreme Court, is now aunounced as a candidate for senator, and his friends claim that he will be a compromise candidate. This is very doubtful. The opinion of the court has embittered many members who occupy conservative positions on railroad legislation. The contest will be full of interest from gow until the conclusion. The Republicans were in conference to night, but no decisive action was taken.

MONTGOMERY, ALA, January 24.—The Montgomery Grays have returned home from Opelika. A lieutenant and ten men, however, remain till further orders. It was at Pinckard's request and on the statement of resistance that the governor sent troops.

The intellectual use of the Bible is legitimate and needful for the reasons already given. But when right critical knowledge is had concerning these books the best use of the Bible awaits us. It is the book of religiou, not of theology, save as it records the one authoritative epistic of theology, the Word of God the Christ. It is not a body of divinity; it is the soul of divinity. Religion is the orb of the soul, its finest feetings, its loftiest imaginations, its noblest enthusiasms.

Let us use it so as to ennoble our wants, to quicken our aspirations, to deepen our self-knowledge, to clear the illusions of the senses and the glamour of the world, to purify our passions, to bring all our powers well in hand to a firm will, and through the mystic laws of nature and of conscience we thus seek to obey to have it breathe within our souls the sense of the Power infinite and Eernal and loving Righteousnes—whom to know is life eternal.
